

Cynthia Harrison Barbera
eGlobalReader
365 Valdez Avenue
San Francisco, CA 94127
cynthia@eglobalreader.com

September 9, 2013

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to convey my highest recommendation for Jordan Gruenert.

Jordan has been working for eGlobalReader as an intern since February this year. In this capacity he assisted in the development of 16 digitized bilingual books – in Spanish/English and Mandarin/English. Throughout every aspect of his internship, Jordan was highly motivated, took direction very well, demonstrated exemplary initiative and routinely returned work in a timely and well-organized fashion.

Because eGlobalReader is a young start-up company, Jordan was occasionally asked to work with us to develop more streamlined ways of digitizing the books. At all times, he was not only willing to re-do prior work and try new approaches but also offered creative solutions that helped to accelerate our production. He somehow always found a way to be available when needed and volunteered to work more hours to complete every assignment so that all our deadlines were met.

I personally found Jordan a joy to work with. He was truly eager to learn and no task seemed too small or trivial. Throughout his tenure with us, Jordan went out of his way to assure his work was of the highest quality.

Following his work with eGlobalReader, I can recommend Jordan without hesitation.

Regards,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Cynthia H. Barbera".

Cynthia H. Barbera
Co-Founder, eGlobalReader